MÁS PUERTAS SE ABREN PARA XIMENA DUQUE

La actriz se mantiene muy conectada al público que le ha dado todo. Se conecta por Twitter o Facebook y se identifica con "#FamiliaDuque"

Por Amelia Orozco

La bella actriz Colombiana, Ximena Duque nos regaló un tiempocito para platicar sobre su más reciente papel en la telenovela por Telemundo, "Santa Diabla."

¿Qué hiciste para convertirte en Inés Robledos?

"Tuve que sacármela bien y hacer el papel de la villana que el público quiere y que no se parezca a otra que me ha tocado. Inés es villana pero está loquita y así lo vivo y lo siento."

¿Qué hicieras si te encontraras con una Inés en la vida real?

"¡Saldría corriendo! Es una mezcla de emociones, uno tiene que tomarse el tiempo para ayudarla. Inés está llena de miedo, culpas y problemas psicológicos."

Ximena fue muy franca en compartir que gran parte de su éxito se lo debe a sus fans y también a la sencillez con la cual enfrenta cada día su trabajo como actriz. "Como que no me creo, soy igual que tú, un ser humano, que llora, es feliz," así me comentó Ximena Duque cuando platicamos sobre sus proyectos.

La actriz se mantiene muy conectada al público que le ha dado todo. Se conecta por Twitter o Facebook y se identifica con "#FamiliaDuque" para hablar con sus fans. Nunca se lo olvida "el público te pone y también te quita," nos comentó. También nos contó como empezó todo. "Cuando era niña, bueno imagínate, yo me la ingeniaba para hacerlos reír, era la payasita de la familia, haciendo improvisaciones. Como que vio eso mi mamá y también lo tengo en la sangre," reflexionó. "Fui creciendo y yo sabía que quería ser actriz y siempre me lo metí en la cabeza y poco y poco," nos intimó. Cuando era adolescente, sus padres se separaron y se mudó de Colombia a Miami con su mamá. Poco después, en 2003, concursó en "Protagonistas de Novela II," y eso le dio la oportunidad de mostrar más que su talento, pero también sus ganas de triunfar. "Lo importante," recaló Ximena, "no es llegar si no mantenerte." Y eso vemos que lo está logrando. Nos platicó "me cerraban puertas, nadie me ha regalado nada," dijo "pero tampoco debes creer que ya la hiciste."

Ella sabía que no la había hecho y siguió demostrando con cada otro papel más que le daban como en "Soñar no Cuesta Nada," "El Amor No Tiene Precio," en la serie "Decisiones," "Pecados Ajenos," "Valeria," y muchas obras más. Ximena tuvo la oportunidad de trabajar en "Santa Diabla" a lado de su amor, Carlos Ponce, el actor puertorriqueño quien hace el papel del abogado Humberto Cano en la telenovela. Además de estar muy entregada a su público, es su hijo Christian que hace cambiar su forma de hablar. De pronto se le nota que su corazón entero le pertenece a él.

Revive todos los capítulos de "Santa Diabla" en www.telemundo.com/novelas con Ximena Duque, junto al hombre que la ama, Carlos Ponce el actor puertorriqueño que hace el papel de Humberto Cano en la novela. Sigán a Ximena y la #FamiliaDuque por Twitter @ximenaduque.

THIS IS CLEVELAND: A CLEVELAND ANTHEM

By Juan Caminero

As a part of a new and innovative campaign to rebrand Cleveland's image, the tourism organization known as "Positively Cleveland" has released a YouTube video entitled "A Cleveland Anthem". The video itself carries a gritty themed portrayal of a rebellious city with attitude, showcasing the entertainment, cuisine, and rock-infused culture. Perhaps the most attention-grabbing aspect of the video are the phrases flashing throughout it, which seem to be pulling apart the curtain of Cleveland's reputation to reveal a town of edgy, passionate, and sophisticated people. These "in-your-face" phrases include "This isn't the place for people who follow the herd" as well as "While they were talking about us, we weren't listening". Following Positively Cleveland's annual meeting at the Cleveland Convention Center on Wednesday, the campaign entitled "This is Cleveland" has sparked a considerable reaction on social media. Cleveland residents, business owners, and even Mayor Frank Jackson took

"...It paints the picture of a city with open arms using the words "Come as you are" to welcome new Clevelanders. In the future, that story might blossom into a renewed reputation that will attract business, students, immigrants, and all the groups who fuel economic growth within America."

to twitter using the hashtag "#ThisisCLE" to show their support. In regards to the new branding strategy, head of Positively Cleveland David Gilbert commented saying "We are not just about marketing...we are about growth". Growth appears to be the buzzword among locals who have been working to bring about what's being called a "Cleveland renaissance". With an active arts scene, a diverse culinary industry, and recent development projects, Cleveland is making a city-wide effort to turn around dwindling numbers and increase commerce. The video released this month was effective in telling a story of a cultured and progressive city who is ready to claim its title as the underdog. It paints the picture of a city with open arms using the words "Come as you are" to welcome new Clevelanders. In the future, that story might blossom into a renewed reputation that will attract business, students, immigrants, and all the groups who fuel economic growth within America.

CONCIERTO DEL DÍA NACIONAL DE LA SALSA 2014

Por: Elmer González. - Fotos: Miguel Rojas.

El domingo 16 de marzo de 2014 se celebró la edición número 31 del concierto del "Día nacional de la salsa" en el Estadio Hiram Bithorn en San Juan.

Este ha sido en los pasados años el evento más importante en el mundo de la salsa en Puerto Rico pues reúne a los seguidores más leales a esta forma de música y sirve, además, de referencia para medir la popularidad del género en la Isla.

Este año se dieron dos circunstancias bien especiales. Primero, la participación sin precedente en este evento de un grupo del ritmo de plena con la agrupación Plena Libre que cumple 20 años de trabajo local e internacional. Por otro lado, la asistencia rompió los records al lograr reunir alrededor de 40 mil salseros entusiastas. El concierto fue dedicado a El Gran Combo y ofreció reconocimientos a figuras como: Justo Betancourt, Miguel Barcasnegras "Meñique"

y la Orquesta La Terrífica. Aunque el énfasis de la actividad siempre ha sido resaltar a las figuras legendarias del género, la "sangre nueva" salsera fue representada por el can-tante y compositor Juan José Hernández y su grupo San Juan-Habana. Por otro lado, la "salsa romántica" se escuchó en la voz de Eddie Santiago quien hacía varios años que no se presentaba en su tierra natal. La tradición y el sonido salsero clásico estuvieron presentes con la participación de la orquesta de Bobby Valentín, Luis Perico Ortiz con Domingo Quiñones, Moncho Rivera con parte del repertorio de su fenecido tío Ismael Rivera y un gran cierre con Oscar D León y Andy Montañez interpretando sus éxitos del pasado con la Dimensión Latina, respaldados por una gran orquesta dirigida por Louis García.

Fueron cerca de diez horas de clave, tambor, bailes, sol y luna que revalidaron una vez más que la salsa sigue viva en Puerto Rico, cuna de figuras importantes que delinearon y popularizaron esta forma de música urbana.

NUEVA YORK RINDE UN HOMENAJE A CELIA CRUZ

La 'Guarachera de Cuba', será recordada en un concierto en el Teatro Apollo de esa ciudad.

"Este es uno de los reconocimientos más importantes que se le han dado desde que falleció. El Apollo es un teatro importante, y en el centro de la comunidad afroamericana", aseguró Omer Pardillo, ejecutor del patrimonio de Celia Cruz, y que fue su representante, al referirse al concierto que se realizará el 22 de marzo en el mítico escenario para recordar a la reina de la salsa, que falleció el 16 de julio de 2003.

Su reconocimiento en el Apollo la llevará a formar parte de un selecto grupo de artistas que también han sido honrados en ese escenario como Aretha Franklin, Ella Fitzgerald, Michael Jackson, Stevie Wonder, Lionel Richie, Etta James o Quincy Jones; muchos de los cuales comenzaron sus carreras en las famosas noches de novatos que se organizan en ese lugar.

"Celia fue la primera en muchas cosas", dijo complacido sobre el que sea la primera latina en recibir esta distinción "y qué bueno porque mantiene vivo el legado de la cultura latina, y más en la ciudad de Nueva York". Pardillo y Elia Knight, hija del fallecido Pedro Knight, esposo de Cruz, aceptarán el reconocimiento durante el evento.

Además, se otorgará una beca a un estudiante de la escuela de Música Celia Cruz en el condado de El Bronx. Un grupo de artistas, entre ellos la cubana Lucrecia como invitada, se tomarán el escenario del Apollo, en el corazón del vecindario de Harlem, para hacer un recorrido por las cuatro etapas de la carrera de Cruz: con la Sonora Matancera, Tito Puente, las Estrellas de Fania y en solitario.

José Alberto "El canario" con su orquesta, Cita Rodríguez y Anissa Gathers -una de las cantantes que dio vida a Celia Cruz en el musical Off Broadway que se hizo de su vida- serán algunos de los músicos que recordarán a Celia Cruz tocando su música en el Apollo.

THE CLEVELAND SALSA MACHINE AL DESCUBIERTO MUSICAL

Por Ivan Gomez

Rafael "Leyo" Rodríguez, nacido y criado en Lajas, Puerto Rico. Que con su voz melódica trasladara al bailar y escuchador a cantantes salseros del pasado. Rafael, atribuyendo la influencia de artistas como Chamaco Ramírez, Marvin Santiago, Héctor Lavoe, y Frankie Ruiz además prolongara como emisario de soneros con sabor y sentimiento que Puerto Rico sigue ofreciendo para el mundo a través de la música, es oportuno señalar que la banda "The Cleveland Salsa Machine" fue fundada por Rafael "Leyo" Rodríguez y Héctor Torres, lo cual "Leyo" nos brindó esta entrevista para el Vocero Latino

¿CUAL ES LA DIFERENCIA ENTRE TÚ Y LAS DEMÁS BANDAS DE SALSA?

Primeramente e notado que la visión de las orquestas ya establecidas en la farándula de la Salsa y Merengue aquí en Cleveland, Ohio no es mas diferente que decir 8 años atrás cuando yo vivía aquí y decidí involucrarme en la farándula musical local luego me fui en el 2005 a Florida, no veo nuevas grabaciones, no veo las orquestas en gran demanda, algunos están tocando el mismo repertorio, no hay innovación. Sin embargo nosotros debutamos Noviembre 1 y ya hemos tocado en 4 diferentes lugares, ya hemos tocado música original (Bella Por Naturaleza) escrita por mi y arreglo de mi director Héctor Torres, ya estamos preparando nuestra primera producción, este su servidor ahora mismo tengo un sencillo homenaje a los grandes salseros del ayer escrito por mi titulado "Pa' Los De Ayer" también mi música con dos trombones es un estilo como el de Willie Colon y Héctor Lavoe no se escucha por aquí, nuestro estilo de Salsa es explícito, clásico y diferente.

¿CUAL ES TU META O DONDE TE MIRAS EN 5 AÑOS?

Definitivamente que quiero tener 2 producciones grabadas con La Cleveland Salsa Machine. Quiero que mi orquesta de salsa sea la vara de medir otras orquestas en cuanto a calidad de música. Quiero empezar local y en 5 años sea nacional e internacional. Deseo cosechar nuevo talento en cuanto a músicos y cantantes, que la Cleveland Salsa Machine sea un icono musical en esta gran ciudad.

¿TIENES UNA CANCIÓN QUE HAGAS ESCRITO QUE SEA TU FAVORITA?

Si, me encanta "El Despreciado" porque creo que todos en nuestras vidas en algún momento dado nos sentimos despreciado por un amor, algún familiar,

"Quiero que mi orquesta de salsa sea la vara de medir otras orquestas en cuanto a calidad de música."

algún amigo o por la misma sociedad y creo que cuando lo grabe va a tocar muchos corazones porque habrá gente que van a coincidir con este sentimiento. También me gusta mucho otra que escribí que se llama "Juanito Mala Maña", lo veo como una continuación de la original "Juanito Alimaña" que grabó Héctor Lavoe

ME HABÍAS COMENTADO QUE ESCRIBES TUS PROPIAS CANCIONES, AL ESCRIBIRLAS TE VASAS EN TU EXPERIENCIA PERSONAL O ¿CUAL ES LA FUENTE DE TU INSPIRACIÓN?

De las canciones que e escrito la mayoría se han basado en experiencias personales pero también encuentro inspiración en el amor, me especializo en escribir letras románticas pero con salsa dura, o sea salsa agresiva, en cuanto a ese estilo de escribir me baso en que la salsa de los 70" s era mas dura, mas intensa que la salsa de los 80's pero la de los 80's era mas romántica pues pienso yo; porque no escribir letra romántica con arreglo musical agresivo? Actualmente estamos tocando una original que se titula "Bella Por Naturaleza" que se basa en esta filosofía "Letra romántica con música de los 70's"

UN POLÍTICO QUE QUERÍA PROHIBIR LA VENTA DE VIDEOJUEGOS VIOLENTOS, DETENIDO POR TRÁFICO DE ARMAS

El senador del estado de California Leland Yee, del Partido Demócrata, ha sido detenido este miércoles acusado de corrupción, tráfico de armas y blanqueo de dinero, según informa el San Francisco Chronicle. Yee trabajaba para una mafia china local llamada Ghee Kung Tong y liderada por Raymond Chow, que también ha sido detenido, junto a dos docenas más de la banda. La investigación ha estado a cargo del FBI, que ha tenido agentes infiltrados en la mafia de Chow durante dos años y medio, obteniendo pruebas de tráfico de armas y contrabando de tabaco y bebidas alcohólicas. Según el escrito de acusación, Yee aceptó sobornos continuamente durante la investigación y también participó en conversaciones donde se discutía explícitamente sobre detalles de las operaciones de tráfico de armas. Se da el caso de que el hipócrita senador Yee ha sido uno de los más activos defensores del control de armas en el estado de California, impulsando varias normas al respecto a raíz de la masacre de Newtown. También fue el autor de una ley que hubiera prohibido la venta de videojuegos violentos a menores en California, que fue echada abajo por el Tribunal Supremo al considerar que violaba la primera enmienda de la Constitución de EEUU, que protege la libertad de expresión. Los jueces otorgaron entonces la misma protección a los videojuegos que la que disfrutaban libros, obras de teatro o películas.

Business Receipts: $2.3 billion

There are more than 9,700 Hispanic-owned businesses in Ohio, according to the most recent Survey of Business Owners conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau. Of that number, businesses with a payroll total 1,340 and, combined, employ more than 11,600 workers with an annual payroll of more than $375 million. Receipts for those businesses approached $2 billion with receipts for all Hispanic-run businesses topping $2.3 billion. The construction sector has the highest proportion of Hispanic firms at 17 percent. This compares to 13 percent for all Ohio firms. Of the Hispanic construction firms, over 90 percent are small with no paid employees. There is also a high Hispanic concentration in health care/social assistance sector at 14 percent. Sectors that are underrepresented by Hispanic-owned firms are real estate/rental/leasing and retail. Real estate is nearly 5 percentage points less than the proportion for all Ohio firms.

The distribution of receipts and employees for Hispanic-owned firms by sector varies greatly from that of the state taken as a whole. Nearly 25 percent of receipts, the largest share, comes from the retail sector and 23 percent of employees are in the accommodation/food services sector. Conversely, for all Ohio businesses, retail brings in 13 percent of receipts and accommodation/food services has 9 percent of employees.

DEAR JOE, THANKS FOR BEING UNAFRAID

By: Richard Herman

In the wake of years of silence by so many, I was delighted to hear you recently ask Mayor Frank Jackson why he does not embrace "immigrant-friendly" policies. For the second year in a row, you had the courage to raise this issue at the Mayor's State of the City address, in front of thousands of people. I think many of them were shocked that the question was even asked, let alone two years in a row!

Silence....as we are told....is supposed to be golden.

Thank you for everything you do. You are a warrior-poet and your work is a constant reminder that we can do better and make Northeast Ohio a premier destination for everyone, including refugees, undocumented immigrants, all immigrant families, immigrant entrepreneurs, international students, and foreign investors. It is a shame that so many of our local leadership ignore this clarion call to build the necessary infrastructure of an "Immigrant-Friendly" city as ONE part of an economic development strategy to boost the population, tax base, and job-creating startups. Inclusion for all is the only sustainable way for growth and equity.

A fast-paced movement has taken shape in city halls around the Midwest to to embrace immigration-based economic development for the benefit of local citizens. Mayors in Columbus, Dayton, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Grand Rapids, Philly, Schenectady, Syracuse, and so many others have initiated plans to support and attract immigrants as part of their city's expansion efforts. There needs to be an action plan, investment to fund that plan, and champions to execute it. Cleveland has the latter (in fact, it's loaded!). But the shining city along the lake is woefully missing the the political will, the plan and the funding.

An Open Letter from Richard Herman to Attorney Joseph Meissner, retired Lieutenant Colonel, co-founder of the Civil Rights Journal at Harvard Law School, and fierce advocate for the less privileged Cleveland City Hall, the Cleveland Foundation and the Gund Foundation should not waste another moment. They should announce their own plan without delay — and it can start with launching the Office of New Americans in Cleveland City Hall.

Here are a few examples of other cities' plans and initiatives. There is a reason for that.

Heck, even small Ohio towns like Springfield are getting in the game!
<http://www.daytondailynews.com/news/news/clark-county-proposal-embraces-immigrants/ndH2q/>

So, I had to scratch my head, listening to Mayor Jackson at the recent state of the city address a few weeks ago, when he said that Cleveland will welcome immigrants, back-tracking from his infamous "we will take care of our own" mantra in response to your question from 2013. (Incidentally, in case you are counting, this is at least the third time that Jackson has reversed position on immigration-based economic development over the past 8 years: first against, then for, then against, now, after the election, apparently for.)

In this year's state of the city, while the rhetoric was improved, the Mayor made no mention of a plan. Where's the beef?

Here is the tweet that the Mayor's office sent out after his state of the address:

"City of Cleveland @CityofCleveland Mar 5 Broad sense of immigration approach needed. Provide an environment forimmigrants to choose Cleveland. A city of choice #SOCLE"

What does this mean? Now that the election is over, is this amorphous statement merely a PR stunt? More of the same?

We need to change the trajectory.

Joe, by boldly asking the questions, publicly, directly, and politely, you ARE changing the game.

As the city continues to lose population and lag other cities in startups, jobs and economic growth, I hope others will do the same.

Ask the questions. Publicly. Often. And without fear.

Here are a few examples of other cities' plans and initiatives

He might be coming to Cleveland. Manny Manuel

Tropical singer Manny Manuel started getting involved in music at a young age, when he joined a band called Tempo Merengero. After teaming up with Los Sabrosos del Merengue, Manny Manuel decided to start his solo career in 1994, signing up to a local label and releasing Rey de Corazones, followed by 1996's Autentico.

Manuel also participated in a tribute album to the Beatles, featuring a Spanish version of "I Want to Hold Your Hand." Manuel released his next album titled Es Mi Tiempo in 1998 which included the hits "Como duele", "Margarita", and a cover of Alejandro Sanz' song "Corazón partío". The album took him on a tour through Spain where the album was certified gold. His next album, Lleno de Vida, preceded a second presentation at the Roberto Clemente Coliseum. This concert was recorded and later released on CD. In 1999, Manny Manuel was nominated for a Grammy Award. After a change of labels and a move to the United States, Manuel released the album Serenata in 2003, which included covers of traditional romantic songs. The album sold over 100,000 and Manuel followed it with yet another presentation at the Coliseum in 2004. For this album, he was also nominated for a Latin Grammy. After recording these two albums with Los Sabrosos, Manuel decided to pursue a solo career. In June 1994, Manuel left the group and on October 1 of the same year debuted as a solo artist. Several months later, he released his first solo album titled Rey de Corazones. The album was certified platinum after a few weeks. With the success of the album, on November, 1995, Manuel presented himself at the Luis A. Ferré Performing Arts Center selling out six shows. In 1996, he released his second album titled Auténtico followed by concerts at the Guaynabo Performing Arts Center and at the Roberto Clemente Coliseum. Manny has collaborated with several artists in concerts and albums like: Performances with Trío Los Condes, especialmente la canción "Querube". Colaboración con Antonio Cabán Vale "El Topo" titulado Lo que mi Pueblo Atesora. Grabando la canción Salsa "Payaso" de Raphy Leavitt. Lanzamiento del álbum Manuel y el Trío Borinquen que incluye boleros tradicionales. Grabando la canción "Dame la mano y ven" (versión española del éxito de los Beatles "I Wanna Hold Your Hand") para el álbum Tropical Tribute to the Beatles. Actuaciones de varios de los éxitos de Bobby Capó para el álbum Siempre Piel Canela lanzado por Banco Popular.

They say he might be coming to Cleveland. Read about it on our next issue.

In 2007, he released another album, Tengo Tanto, which included fusions of merengue with other Caribbean rhythms like vallenato.
